Gft. Roses—About one-third our annual out-put are root-grafted varieties, using only a small piece of the root of Gloire des Rosomanes (Ragged Robin). Only a very short piece is used, which positively insures them against throwing root-suckers. Ragged Robin is a hardy Rose we have known intimately the past twenty-five years. It never suckers from the roots, so will never produce any wild sort not wanted. We think there is no better root-stock for Hybrid Teas and kindred sorts.

HOWARD OWN ROOT ROSES

We probably grow more Own-Root Hybrid Tea Roses than any other firm.
